

SEMPERIT TRAINEE PROGRAM

The Semperit Global Graduate Trainee Program is a comprehensive training program that prepares high-performing young talents to become the future experts and leaders of our robust expansion. It is a structured 2-years program designed to develop talented graduates to a global standard of excellence who can build our future.

SEMPERIT

Semperit is a global player in the rubber and plastics industry. Our product range stretches from gloves (SEMPERMED), through hoses (SEMPERFLEX) and conveyor belts (SEMPERTRANS), to special technically molded products (SEMPERFORM). We have secured leading positions worldwide in all business areas. Our proactive focus on our core activities and continuing internationalization are key factors in our successful growth strategy.

We offer an interesting challenge and attractive employment conditions in an international organization with production sites in Europe (Austria, Germany, Italy, France, Hungary, Czech Republic and Poland), the USA, and Asia (Thailand, China, India, Malaysia), as well as further sales companies around the world. Good opportunities for further development and comprehensive training are awaiting you.
